Economic Development Today

A Telecast On

Faith-Based Economic Development

February 21, 2007, 3:00-4:00 PM EST

This telecast will focus on the impacts of faith-based initiatives on economic development. Faith-based and community organizations have a long tradition of helping Americans in need and together represent an integral part of our nation's social service network. The telecast will feature Senator Kit Bond of Missouri and Jay Hein, Deputy Assistant to the President and Director of the Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives. Sandy Baruah, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development will present two award-winning examples. The Assistant Secretary will interview representatives from the William M. Factory Small Business Incubator that recently received a service award from the White House Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives as champions of compassion. The telecast will also showcase the recognition ceremony of the St. Patrick Center in St. Louis, MO, in which it received a Department of Commerce EDA award for Excellence in Economic Development in the category of Community and Faith-Based Social Entrepreneurship.
