Economic Development Today

A Telecast on Community Economic Development to Support Growth 3:00 P.M. - 4:00 P.M. EDT

Over the next five years, more than a dozen military installations and their surrounding communities will experience growth ranging from 5,000 to over 20,000 personnel and their families as a result of BRAC 05, IGPBS and Transformation, requiring a different approach to a different set of issues from communities facing downsizing.

Telecast viewers will see successful examples from communities that have previously managed growth issues related to military installations receiving new missions, troop units and significant numbers of additional defense personnel.

The telecast will feature the "Communities Responding to Growth" presentation as taped from the OSD/Military Service/Community Conference "Responding to BRAC 05" being held in Atlanta, Georgia on May 2-5, 2006 <https://www.respondingtobrac.com/conference.asp>. Department of Defense and other officials will also be interviewed regarding the BRAC process.

The OSD/Military Service/Community Conference presents state and local officials with helpful perspectives for responding to the anticipated growth or downsizing actions arising from the 2005 Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC 05) process, the Integrated Global Presence and Basing Strategy (IGPBS), and Transformation.

An Information Dissemination Partnership

The Economic Development Administration (EDA), the International Economic Development Council (IEDC) and the National Association of Regional Councils (NARC) have established an information dissemination partnership. Economic Development Today is a program that includes a series of six telecasts intended to provide information about economic development practices and programs to economic development practitioners who serve distressed communities throughout the United States. Also, the partnership provides a monthly update and a quarterly magazine. To view prior telecasts, via the web, visit <http://www.eda.gov/newsevents/webcastvideos.xml>.
