About PSRC

The Puget Sound Regional Council is the regional transportation, growth management and economic development planning agency serving Seattle and the central Puget Sound. The thriving region is home to over 4 million people and is one of the nation's fastest growing metropolitan areas. PSRC brings together the region's counties, cities and towns, native tribes, ports, the state of Washington and civic interests to understand the challenges facing our region's future and make plans for the region to continue to succeed. The agency serves as the region's Metropolitan Planning Organization and also plays the leading regional role in growth management and economic development under state and federal laws. Visit www.psrc.org to find out more. PSRC is an equal opportunity employer.

The Position

PSRC is seeking a Senior Transportation Analyst to perform a variety of tasks and activities that support the implementation of transportation projects in the central Puget Sound region. The position will provide leadership and support to the Transportation Planning Division, with a particular focus on the regional Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) and the delivery of transportation investments funded by PSRC's Federal Transit Administration and Federal Highway Administration funds. The position will be responsible for a range of qualitative and quantitative work. This work will include, but is not limited to the following tasks:

- Reviewing and analyzing detailed project information, including current funding, project scopes and schedules.
- Ensuring the accuracy and compliance of the Regional Transportation Improvement Program.
- Identifying and resolving issues for transportation projects.
- Assisting with the implementation of federal transportation requirements and regional policy.

The Candidate

The ideal candidate will have:

- Knowledge of, and experience with, federal and state transportation funding programs.
- Knowledge of transportation project requirements, such as environmental approval, permitting, right of way processes, etc.
- Ability to perform data analysis and research, synthesize and summarize analytic processes and findings, and make recommendations.
- Ability to lead staff and committees.
- Excellent attention to detail, organization, and problem-solving skills.
- Ability to communicate effectively, both verbally and in writing.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team, and with the general public and transportation professionals.

Experience and Education

- Bachelor's degree in planning, civil engineering, or related field. Master's degree preferred.
- Four years increasingly responsible experience in transportation planning, grants management or related field.
- Or, any combination of education and experience that would provide the applicant with the desired skills, knowledge, and abilities required to perform the job.

To Apply

- To be considered, applicants must submit a cover letter, resume, and completed, signed PSRC application.
- The voluntary and confidential Equal Employment Opportunity, Applicant's Invitation to Self-Identify — Veteran Status, and Voluntary Self-Identification of Disability forms are appreciated for applicant tracking purposes.

About the Puget Sound Region

Spectacular natural surroundings, world-class education systems, thriving urban centers, vibrant neighborhoods and a lively arts and culture scene are just some of what makes the Puget Sound region an exceptional place to live and work. Ringed by snow-capped mountain peaks and crisscrossed by waterways, the Puget Sound region is a commercial center and a major hub for Trans-Pacific and European trade. Some of the world's most successful and innovative companies are based here, including Boeing, Microsoft, Starbucks, Amazon, Costco, Paccar, Weyerhaeuser, Nordstrom, and many more. Outdoor activities are especially plentiful given the region's natural beauty and mild climate. Hiking in the Olympic or Cascade mountains, kayaking on Lake Union, or cycling on one of the many rail-to-trails paths are just a few of the options available. Washington is viewed as a progressive and innovative state where people are outgoing and friendly.
