

Our client, the Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG), seeks an Executive Director (ED). DRCOG is one of the nation's three oldest councils of governments. DRCOG's membership consists of representatives from the 9 counties comprising the Denver metro area and 47 municipalities collaborating to make life in the greater metro area better. The ED reports to the Board of Directors and serves as the chief administrative officer of the organization. The ED is responsible for providing leadership, advice, counsel and assistance to the Board and its committees. A Master's degree in public administration or directly related field and ten to twelve years of management experience that includes relevant experience at the director and/or executive level is required. Additional experience in lieu of an advanced degree will also be considered. Along with significant, progressively responsible experience in local, regional, state, federal government administration; knowledge of transportation, urban planning, and aging policy initiatives, while not required, is highly preferred.
